Aspen Arbor Animal Hospital moves to new, state-of-the-art facility in Broomfield

Serving area pets since 1973, Aspen Arbor Animal Hospital (AAAH) is leaping into 2010 with a new, state-of-the-art facility in Broomfield. The hospital will begin taking appointments on its official opening day, Tuesday, Jan. 12 in its new location at 8865 W. 116th Circle in Broomfield, directly across from Rocky Mountain Regional Airport (formerly Jefferson County Airport). From 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Monday, Jan. 11, AAAH will host a pre-opening day tour and reception for current clients and area residents.

Owned and operated by Dr. Brian McKee, AAAH's expert doctors, technicians and staff, with combined veterinary experience of over 45 years, provide a one-stop, convenient location for the veterinary needs of Westminster, Arvada, Broomfield, Louisville, Superior and Lafayette area pets.

The hospital provides:

- preventive and in-depth general veterinary medicine;
- specialty consultations;
- alternative care, including acupuncture;
- full diagnostic, laboratory, x-ray and radiology services;
- microchipping and county license registration and renewal;
- pain management;
- pharmacy;
- advanced dentistry;
- advanced nutritional and geriatric training;
- boarding, and grooming.

The new facility provides 7,700 square feet of modern, contemporary and comfortable space and five exam and treatment rooms outfitted with cutting edge equipment including digital x-ray and ultrasound machines, anesthetic monitoring and complete laboratory. The hospital also offers luxury kennels, geriatric boarding and a private grieving room.

AAAH treats dogs, cats, horses, rabbits, ferrets and pocket pets six days a week, Mondays through Saturdays. Boarding services are available seven days a week, 365 days a year. AAAH has been accredited through the American Animal Hospital Association since 2004.
