

Boarding Checklist for Pet Parents

We know planning your pet's boarding stay can be a very hectic, so we've put together this magnificent checklist for our boarding guests!

Fun Things to Note!

- ✓ Here at Aspen Arbor, we want your pet to feel right at home! Feel free to bring (mostly) anything you feel will keep your pet happy and calm, including but not limited to:
 - Blankets
 - Beds
 - Toys
 - Shirts
 - Treats/Bones
- ✓ When selecting items to bring in with your pet please keep in mind there's always a chance they will damage or destroy their belongings! Dogs tend to urinate and/or defecate on items while housed in kennel runs. Our kennel team will do their best to keep items clean, but please be aware, we are not able to launder large beds! Also, we are not responsible for items lost, damaged or destroyed during your pet's stay.

Medications and Supplements

- ✓ In accordance with the Department of Agriculture's Pet Animal Care Facilities Act, all medications must arrive at our facility and be stored in their original container with prescribing instructions specific to the pet receiving them. All medication will be administered according to the instructions written by the prescribing veterinarian. All supplements must also arrive in their original container with prescribing instructions specific to the pet receiving them. All supplements will be administered according to the instructions written by the prescribing veterinarian.

Food (Diets) & Treats!

- ✓ We know both cats and dogs are happier with treats (aren't we all?!). If you're providing food for your pet during their stay, it must be in a resealable, water resistant container. This helps us keep your pet's food dry, fresh, and ready to gobble down.
- ✓ We recommend you bring your pet's current food while staying with us. This helps keep their GI track balanced and reduces the chance of diarrhea. However, we do provide a dry "house diet" for both cats and dogs at no additional cost (Royal Canin GI Low Fat).
